Cortina Leathers re-introduces Collina: Simple ingredients. Rich Character.

Cortina Leathers announces the relaunch of Collina, an Italian heritage leather collection now refreshed in 16 fresh, designer-requested colors with added protection. Full-grain and full of soul, Collina is crafted in Italy by a fourth-generation Italian tannery using traditional methods and now finished with a waxed touch for an ultra-silky hand, subtle pull-up effect when tufted, and added performance. The result is a gorgeous aniline leather that delivers heirloom quality with hospitality-grade resilience.

Collina means “hill” in Italian. Inspired by the rolling hills of Tuscany, Collina reflects Italy’s timeless landscapes while meeting the demands of today’s high-design interiors. Rich layered tones and natural character make each hide unique—an artisanal material designed to stand out in unforgettable spaces.

About Cortina Leathers. Since 1903, Cortina Leathers has been the premier source for fine, performance, and custom leather for the interior design and furniture manufacturing industries. While they continue to manufacture leather at their original factory location in Northeast Ohio, they now employ an international network of artisanal tanneries, showrooms, and sales representatives to offer designers limitless leather possibilities. Cortina's core belief in the timeless beauty, unmatched durability, and natural sustainability of genuine leather inspires every project.
